

MEDIA RELEASE

April 13, 2020

Arts Council Contact: JoAnna Crone, Community Engagement Coordinator
JoAnna@CarrollCountyArtsCouncil.org

The Carroll County Arts Council launches newly designed website

After many months of preparation, the Carroll County Arts Council's revamped website went live late last week. This new website is more functional, versatile, and user-friendly. Visit CarrollCountyArtsCouncil.org to see all the new offerings!

Over the years, the Arts Council has expanded their programming, changing at a pace that made the former website more and more obsolete. The goal with this new website is to make it as simple as possible for the public to learn about everything the Arts Council offers in one place.

The new website has a clean, modern design thanks to the designers at Kohn Creative of Westminster. The CCAC's Community Engagement Coordinator, JoAnna Crone, spearheaded this project and collaborated with Kohn on what new features the Arts Council wanted to implement. Some of the new features include an enhanced calendar that will make it easy to find specific performances, brand new pages for public art and the clubs that the CCAC hosts, and a new community arts calendar.

Says Crone, "I have to give a big 'Thank You' to the team at Kohn Creative for their hard work in designing our fabulous new website! Their designers, Craig and Rosie, were wonderful to work with and we couldn't be happier with the end product."

The Arts Council is currently closed invites you to explore the new site in hopes that by the time their doors open again, the public will be familiar with where to buy tickets, sign up for classes, and more. If you need help, send them an email at info@carrollcountyartscouncil.org. Or even just to let them know you think the new website is fantastic!

Visit www.carrollcountyartscouncil.org to begin exploring CCAC's new website.

#